

Hot Jobs, Cool Internships Newsletter

Engineering

May 1, 2009

To make sure that you're in the know about the job and internship opportunities that might interest you the most, the Career Center is re-designing its newsletter format. Instead of one master newsletter, we'll be sending out targeted newsletters based on three focus areas: Social Sciences and Humanities, Natural Sciences, and Engineering. You will be e-mailed the newsletter that's the best fit based on your major. We'll also be posting all three newsletters on our website at <http://www.jhu.edu/careers/students>.

Hopkins Civic Engagement Conference

Homewood Campus

Saturday, May 2nd

9:30am-1:30pm

Charles Commons Ballrooms

The purpose of the Hopkins Civic Engagement Conference is to channel the energy of change present on our campus into innovative forms of service. By bringing together leaders who work locally, nationally, and internationally in the sciences, the arts, education, and politics, we aim to spark the interest of all participants. This conference will provide speakers and attendees alike the opportunity to connect and interact through keynote speeches and small group break-out sessions. This event will act as an inspiration for change agents and will give those present the chance to participate in the new era of nationwide responsibility and community development.

Public Service Recognition Week

May 7 -10, 2009

Washington, DC

Come visit the National Mall May 7-10 for the 25th annual Public Service Recognition Week (PSRW) celebration! The Department of Labor, Office of Personnel Management and many other agencies will present interactive exhibits that demonstrate the broad range of government programs and services. See first-hand what it is like to work in the federal government and talk with current employees about their work!

Friday, May 8, 2009 is Students' Day, and we are pleased to announce that Secretary of Education, Arne Duncan, will give opening remarks. Students from all over the area are invited to attend and learn about exciting job opportunities in the federal government! Please visit our website for more information:
