Good Luck on Your Finals!

The Career Center would like to wish you all good luck with your final exams and papers! Remember, the Career Center will be open throughout both the month of December and for all of Intercession, so if you're on campus, feel free to stop by or make an appointment with a career counselor. Whether you're a December 2009 grad, beginning your summer internship search, or a senior who's preparing for their last semester at Hopkins, the Career Center can help get you started! Call our office at 410-516-8056 for more information.

Last Chance to Register for the Bioengineering/Biotechnology Virtual Career Fair!

Monday, December 14 is the last day to register for the virtual Bioengineering/Biotechnology Career Fair. Through a partnership with Cornell, RPI, Princeton, and UPenn, the JHU Career Center has brought the biotech community to you. To register, you must access <http://biocareerfair.experience.com/er/security/login.jsp> and create an account using the token "biofair09". Then, search job/internship postings and apply to them as you would any other posting.

The fair closes on Monday, December 14, so don't miss this great opportunity!

The Advanced Application Scholars Program at the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory
Advanced Application Scholars will have the opportunity to work at the APL in Laurel, MD during summer 2010, where they will be partnered with a staff mentor experienced in their field of study.

At APL, Advanced Application Scholars are teamed with a staff scientist or engineer who is conducting research and development in a field consistent with the intern's academic major. Advanced Application Scholars have the chance to apply their schooling and hone their problem-solving skills while helping to solve critical problems affecting our nation.

Typical internship assignments may include:

Engineering students and graduates!

*Interested in spending 2 weeks in a foreign country this spring learning about international engineering opportunities?

AIPT, the Association for International Practical Training, is offering two unique and exciting Global Career Launch (GCL) programs for engineering students and recent graduates to experience business and culture in a foreign country. AIPT is excited to announce GCL Australia and GCL Germany for May 2010.

Spend 11 days in Sydney, Australia or 10 days in Munich, Germany exploring future career and graduate education opportunities. Throughout the trip, students will meet with companies that hire international engineering graduates and participate in lectures, facility tours and question and answer sessions with employees. Students will also talk with admission representatives at top local engineering universities to discuss graduate school opportunities. Finally, students will have the chance enjoy the cultural sites of Sydney or Munich, both through pre-arranged activities and on their own.

For more information on GCL Australia and GCL Germany, contact AIPT at gcl@aipt.org or 443-539-0549. You can also learn more about GCL and AIPT's other programs and services at www.aipt.org.
