February 2003

Dear Parents:

As the Class of 2003 enters its final semester at Johns Hopkins, we recognize with both enthusiasm and nostalgia that Commencement is quickly approaching.

The Johns Hopkins University has a proud Commencement tradition. This year's ceremonies will take place on Homewood Field on Thursday, May 22. At the 9:15 a.m. University-wide Commencement Ceremony, degrees will be conferred on undergraduate and graduate students, including doctoral candidates, from all the University's Schools. At the 1:45 p.m. Undergraduate Diploma Ceremony, seniors graduating from the G.W.C. Whiting School of Engineering and the Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences will be called to the stage for a parting handshake with President William R. Brody and their respective dean. I cordially invite you to join us at both ceremonies.

The enclosed invitation package developed by the University Administration provides more details about Commencement. In addition, information regarding hotel reservations and local restaurants is included.

On behalf of the Class of 2003, I hope that you will accept my sincere invitation to attend Commencement ceremonies. We look forward to sharing our finest hour with you.

Very truly yours,

Ravi Kavaseery

President, Class of 2003
