

Hot Jobs, Cool Internships Newsletter

Humanities & Social Sciences

May 1, 2009

To make sure that you're in the know about the job and internship opportunities that might interest you the most, the Career Center is re-designing its newsletter format. Instead of one master newsletter, we'll be sending out targeted newsletters based on three focus areas: Social Sciences and Humanities, Natural Sciences, and Engineering. You will be e-mailed the newsletter that's the best fit based on your major. We'll also be posting all three newsletters on our website at <http://www.jhu.edu/careers/students>.

Hopkins Civic Engagement Conference

Homewood Campus
Saturday, May 2, 2009
9:30am-1:30pm
Charles Commons Ballrooms

The purpose of the Hopkins Civic Engagement Conference is to channel the energy of change present on our campus into innovative forms of service. By bringing together leaders who work locally, nationally, and internationally in the sciences, the arts, education, and politics, we aim to spark the interest of all participants. This conference will provide speakers and attendees alike the opportunity to connect and interact through keynote speeches and small group break-out sessions. This event will act as an inspiration for change agents and will give those present the chance to participate in the new era of nationwide responsibility and community development.

Finding Common Ground on Foreign Aid Conference

Omni-Shoreham Hotel
Tuesday, May 5, 2009
Washington, DC

The Society for International Development, Washington, D.C. Chapter (SID-Washington) is proud to announce its upcoming 2009 Annual Conference "Finding Common Ground on Foreign Aid" on Tuesday, May 5 at the Omni-Shoreham Hotel. We anticipate a broad-based audience of over 500 people, representing a diverse constituency of non-governmental organizations, development consulting firms, government agencies, multilateral institutions and universities actively engaged in the field of international development.

We would like to formally invite students and recent alumni from your University to participate as volunteers at the Conference. We are looking for volunteers to help staff the Conference which begins at 8:30 am and ends with a reception at 5:00 pm. Volunteers gain free admission to the Conference (the student price is $75). We have 50 organizational sponsors, most of which will be exhibiting at the Conference, so it is a great opportunity for students to speak to potential employers.

If people are interested they can email jkamwene@sidw.org with their availability.

Public Service Recognition Week

May 7 -10, 2009
Washington, DC

Come visit the National Mall May 7-10 for the 25th annual Public Service Recognition Week (PSRW) celebration! The Department of Labor, Office of Personnel Management and many other agencies will present interactive exhibits that demonstrate the broad range of government programs and services. See first-hand what it is like to work in the federal government and talk with current employees about their work!

Friday, May 8, 2009 is Students' Day, and we are pleased to announce that Secretary of Education, Arne Duncan, will give opening remarks. Students from all over the area are invited to attend and learn about exciting job opportunities in the federal government! Please visit our website for more information: <http://www.ourpublicservice.org/OPS/programs/psrw/>.
