

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY
OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

THE NEW RECORDS AND REGISTRATION SYSTEM HAS ARRIVED!

On July 16, 2007, Johns Hopkins University moves closer to the completion of the Integrated Student Information System (ISIS) project with the implementation of the Records and Registration application. The ISIS project represents the University's ongoing commitment to a fully integrated student information system accessible through the web. The system will provide students access to financial aid, billing and enrollment records in one location with the same interface. Similarly, faculty will continue to have a number of features including course rosters with detailed student information and grade entry available through a single website.

Strong authentication security assures confidential access to information by students, and faculty and using any popular web browser and their JHED Login ID and password.

Many students are already familiar with student information online. In addition to the Financial Aid and Billing features, ISIS for Students incorporates features which continue to provide Registrar Services including:

- Ability to select courses in a shopping cart to allow for better planning and easy registration.
- Ability to update and maintain address, telephone numbers, and email addresses.
- Ability to review enrollment and grade information by semester.
- Quick access to contact information for the offices of Admissions, Financial Aid, Billing, and Registrar across the institution.

Students and faculty wanting to learn more about ISIS and how it will impact them in 2007 can go to www.jhu.edu/isis.